Our Mission

The Kelly Brush Foundation works to inspire and empower people with spinal cord injuries to lead active and engaged lives.

Kelly Brush, Founder

Letter from Kelly

Every year, the KBF amazes me, and 2024 was no different. I had the joy of participating in some truly remarkable events across the country and got to meet some amazing people from our community. From dancing alongside hundreds of women at the Rollettes Experience in LA, to attending Ski Spec in Breckenridge, CO with 5 KBF-sponsored athletes, to skiing with 20 other monoskiers at Park City, to rafting down the Colorado River with six amazing young women at TRAC Camp, and finally enjoying the KBF mountain bike camp with our largest group yet. I am so grateful for the opportunity to immerse myself in the KBF's mission!

This year, I truly felt the power of the KBF community. I got to experience firsthand the impact we are having on people's lives, and I cannot wait to continue to expand our work and reach even more people. This year reminded me that our mission is so much more than scholarships and pieces of equipment, it's smiles, friendships, new-found confidence, and helping re-discover a love of life.

As 2025 rolls out, I am so excited for our 20th Annual Kelly Brush Ride! In 2006, when my Middlebury teammates joined together to raise money for me to get my first monoski, none of us expected that 20 years later, we'd be now bringing together 900+ riders from all over, supporting adaptive athletes across the country.

I'm so incredibly proud of what we've accomplished in these 20 years. This may be our most special ride yet, so I hope you join me however you can this September!

As always, thank you for being a part of our KBF community!

Executive Director

Letter from Edie

As I reflect on 2024, I am deeply proud of all that the Kelly Brush Foundation has accomplished. We hosted more camps, gave out more adaptive equipment grants, worked with nine of the best SCI rehabilitation hospitals to get our digital platform into the hands of the newly injured, and helped improve access to outdoor recreation across the state of Vermont. These are just a few of our accomplishments this year - look through the rest of this Impact Report for more!

This year, we conducted a longitudinal study on our longest-running and most well-funded program, the Active Fund, through which the KBF gives out grants for cost-prohibitive adaptive sports equipment. We surveyed grantees 1 year after they received their equipment to determine the impact their grant has on their lives. The results are inspiring: 100% of respondents confirmed that the Active Fund meets KBF's mission to inspire and empower people with spinal cord injuries to live active and engaged lives. In addition to that, 97% have seen their quality of life improve since receiving their equipment. These results reinforce the profound difference we're making through this program.

This year's accomplishments would not be possible without you—our amazing supporters, donors, and volunteers. Your dedication to our mission makes everything we do possible, and I am incredibly grateful for your continued support. Together, we will break down more barriers and make every journey from injury to independence easier than the last.

It's more than just riding; it gave me a whole new level of confidence and opened up a new way to live an active life. I stepped out of my comfort zone, put myself out there, and just went for it. Those are the best experiences—the ones that teach you something new about yourself.

Gretchen

Since getting the grant I have the freedom of riding, have got stronger, and even raced in a few races. I placed 3rd in my first year and 2nd the year after. I have been participating in triathlons and experiencing the freedom of riding alone also.”

Angelo

I'm excited about this equipment because it allows me to go outside with my children and explore nature instead of being stuck on the pavement. I feel like I have my life back.”

Kayla

Adaptive sports have given me a sense of achievement and pride... I have had the opportunity to travel all over the nation competing and participating in many different sports and activities. The question now (is) not what sports do I participate in; it's what sports haven't I tried.”

Cedric

My Active Fund grant had a huge impact on my involvement in adaptive sports and, by association, my physical/ mental health....I use my equipment for practice, competitive play, and recreational play, which has led me to start and develop relationships with like-minded, like-abled people.”

Evan

Reaching, Supporting, and Connecting The Newly Injured

The KBF's community platform, the Active Project, provides everything that's needed to start, or further, an adaptive sports journey. Now people with disabilities have access to peers, events, adaptive sports programs, and instructional resources, all in one place. This year, we enhanced the platform with an events calendar, user messaging, and a bi-weekly virtual discussion group with new experts every week. These new features have helped usage skyrocket, connecting more people to opportunities to try sports, meet others, and get active.

In 2024, we also began partnering with rehab hospitals across the country so that therapists could introduce their newly injured patients to what's possible in the exhilarating, confidence-boosting, and joyful world of adaptive sports. One therapist described it as "the most game-changing resource I've seen in years." We plan to work with even more hospitals in 2025 and beyond.

Events: Rollettes Experience

This year was KBF's first time sponsoring and attending the Rollettes Experience in Los Angeles, CA! Girls and women with SCI and other disabilities gathered for a weekend of dance, art, entertainment, community building, and informational seminars.

Triumph Foundation's Sports Festival

The KBF sponsored and attended the Triumph Foundation's Wheelchair Sports Festival in Santa Clarita, CA. The festival is a massive 200+ people open house with tons of different sports to try, such as hockey, basketball, quad rugby, racquetball, handcycling, baseball, yoga, and more!

Utah Monoski Day

The KBF hosted a day for alpine skiers from all over to gather in Park City, Utah to ski the powder together. With representatives from all of the adaptive programs in the Salt Lake City area, athletes got to connect during chairlift rides through the Rockies.

Camps: Building Skills, Confidence & Community

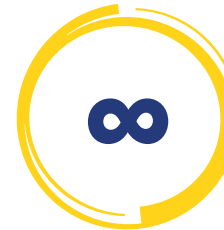

The KBF hosted more adaptive sports camps than ever before this year. From skiing to rafting, these camps are designed not only to introduce or improve physical abilities but also to promote community and personal growth. These camps provide an invaluable opportunity for individuals to engage in adaptive sports, meet others facing similar challenges, and discover new possibilities for living a fulfilling life post-injury.

Number of Smiles

Shirley Ryan MTB Camp

Shirley Ryan AbilityLab came East from Chicago with their mountain bike program regulars to explore our simultaneously rugged and accessible Vermont terrain. The group of adaptive mountain bikers got to try uphill climbs to flowing downhills and plenty of laps at the Killington Bike Park.

Shepherd Summer Camp at STARS

KBF supported 6 participants to attend Shepherd Center's summer trip to Steamboat STARS, a fully accessible ranch. The group explored handcycling, water skiing, gondola ride, and horseback riding among the mountains and Yampa River.

Active Fund: Granting Independence

The Active Fund is the KBF's flagship program. Twice a year, we give out grants for cost-prohibitive adaptive sports equipment so people can be active independently. The longitudinal impact study shows that one year after receiving their grant:

100% agree: The Active Fund inspires and empowers individuals with spinal cord injuries to live active, engaged lives.

Over 95% of recipients noted an enhanced quality of life and newfound freedom, while more than 90% felt better connected to their communities and experienced improved physical health.

The study showed that owning equipment enables recipients to recreate on their own terms, build stronger social connections, and find new opportunities in adaptive sports, with many respondents describing their grants as "freedom," "independence," and "adventure."

Committed to Safety: Ski Racing

The KBF has strengthened its commitment to improving safety in Alpine ski racing by advocating for the importance of safety, educating on best safety practices, and providing safety equipment grants at every level of the sport.

In 2024, we provided nearly $100,000 in matched funds to help 27 ski clubs across the country keep over 10,000 racers safer on race and training courses. We continue to supply Stop the Bleed kits to coaches and volunteers to always have them available during racing and training. We moved the conversation forward with our advocacy for safety in ski racing, starting at the top levels of the sport and reaching every club across the country.

I am so thankful for the cross-country sit ski this grant provided for me. I had so much fun out on the trails with family (and) friends. I competed in races. I felt like I belonged to my community. I am thankful for the grant and the ability to choose what was best for me. Thank you!

Access for All: 100+ Miles of Universal Trails

The KBF made significant strides in making outdoor recreation more accessible by helping to adapt over 100 miles of trails in Vermont for adaptive mountain bikes. A highlight of this effort has been The Driving Range — Vermont’s first purpose-built universal trail network, managed by Richmond Mountain Trails in Bolton, VT. This extensive trail system serves as a model for what inclusive outdoor recreation can look like, providing individuals with spinal cord injuries and other mobility challenges the opportunity to experience Vermont’s beautiful mountain landscapes in a whole new way.

19th Annual Kelly Brush Ride

Another incredible ride in the books, and an impressive $1,254,638 raised from our 942 riders and 5,500+ supporters. Thanks to every rider, donor, volunteer, and sponsor for helping us reach a new fundraising record at the Kelly Brush Ride!

Our Bay Area community came out in force with over 200 riders at the 3rd Annual Kelly Brush Ride: Bay Area. Thanks to the city of Mill Valley, our sponsors, riders, volunteers, and everyone else who helped us grow this ride so much! We cannot wait for an even bigger ride in 2025.

A Night to Inspire

This year's Night to Inspire event in Boston was an unforgettable evening, packed with supporters, grant recipients, inspiring speakers, live music, cocktails, and so much more! A huge thank you to all the attendees and donors for helping make this night truly special.

The KBF programs funded today change lives. A contribution to the Kelly Brush Foundation Endowment ensures this impact continues beyond our lifetimes and helps individuals with spinal cord injuries experience the freedom of adaptive sports and improve their quality of life—today and for generations to come.
